What do you appreciate most about DMC?

One of the things I appreciate most about DeMotte Christian School is the emphasis teachers and parents put on educating the whole child. At DMC we seek to educate each student academically, physically, emotionally and spiritually. God has created each of his children with gifts and talents to cultivate and it is encouraging to see parents and teachers working together to help students realize their God-given potential in various disciplines. It is an honor to work at a school where parents and teachers work together to teach children about God's world and their place in it.
